

CLUB EXPECTS 150 TO BE AT BANQUET

BUSINESS MEN, FARMERS, WOMEN TO MEET TONIGHT

CRESTON MAN TO SPEAK

Roy L. Emry Has Community Work as His Topic—Lecturer from University Is Also Obtained

The Maryville Commercial Club banquet, as announced a week ago, will be held at 7 o'clock tonight at the First Christian church. G. L. Wilfey, president of the club, will be toastmaster, and the chief speakers will be Roy L. Emry, secretary of the Creston, Iowa, Commercial Club, and R. M. Roland, who will represent the College of Agriculture of the University of Missouri.

About 150 persons are expected to be present, judging from the number of tickets already sold. These will include residents of Maryville, both men and women, and about thirty visitors from the country. The meal will be served by the women of the Christian church. They have been turned loose with a blanket instruction to produce something worthy of the town, and those who know the good cooks of the Christian church are buying tickets eagerly.

Among the out-of-town visitors will be Lester Milligan, secretary of the Greater Clarinda Club of Clarinda, Iowa, who will bring several members with him, and E. M. Claypool, former secretary of the Maryville club, who is now in St. Joseph as secretary of the Jefferson Highway Association.

This meeting will be the big meeting of the year for the local club. Plans for the future work of the club will be taken up and several innovations are expected to be announced. The newspaper campaign of publicity to advertise the city to itself will be discussed. The farm speaker will take up question of vital import to the farmers of the county, and Mr. Emry, who has had remarkable success as secretary of the Creston club, will present pointers on community work that ought to arouse new ambitions here. All in all, this affair will be one that no Maryville booster can well afford to miss.

At the banquet, too, an announcement will be made of an approaching event to all the citizens of Maryville. Mr. Emry, accompanied by Mrs. Emry, arrived in Maryville from Creston bright and early this morning. This Creston man is a live wire. He made a record for himself as secretary of the club at Fairfield, Iowa, and then was graduated to the work at Creston.

Just now he is raising several thousand dollars for the Creston semi-centennial celebration early in October. Creston was no place at all before 1869, says Mr. Emry; then the railroad adopted it, and in the fifty years since, Creston has been one of the most important cities in the state. These fifty years of achievement will be fittingly celebrated on and 9.

Mr. Roland, who is assistant county agent leader for Missouri, working under the auspices of the State College of Agriculture, arrived in Maryville this morning. He probably will speak on the development of county agent work in the state. He has been in this work in Missouri a little more than a year, and most of his time has been spent in the eastern half of the state.

George Robb Ellison also will speak relative to the change of the name of the club from Commercial Club to Chamber of Commerce.

COLLEGE IN CONFUSION TODAY AS STUDENTS HUNT COURSES

Banner Enrollment Predicted, but no Figures Until Tomorrow—demonstration School Opens

All is confusion today at the State Teachers College, with students registering and running around to find out what courses they are going to take and what rooms they will be in and just who the teacher is and all that sort of thing. Prospects point to a banner enrollment, but figures will not be available before tomorrow.

The most of the registration will be completed this afternoon, and tomorrow morning class work will begin.

The demonstration school opened this morning. It is conducted this year on an understanding with the Maryville school board, and the work will conform to that in the public schools, except that gymnasium training will be given, there will be a health department available and transportation for students on and close to paved streets will be provided.

All the classes in the demonstration school were well filled this morning, especially the kindergarten department.

TAKES TOWNSHIP ROAD BONDS TO PURCHASERS IN ST. LOUIS

Fred Wright, Deputy County Clerk, on Trip With $90,000 Issues of Independence and Grant.

Fred Wright, deputy county clerk, is expected back in Maryville tonight from St. Louis, where he went Sunday night with the road bonds of Independence and Grant townships. These bonds, which were taken to Jefferson City recently to be registered with the state auditor, are now delivered to their purchasers, the Kauffman-Smith-Emert Investment Company of St. Louis.

The Independence bonds are for $50,000. Those of Grant township total $40,000.

County Treasurer James Blagg today bought the 120-acre farm of Mrs. A. J. McReynolds, 5 1/2 miles southeast of Ravenwood. The deal was made through the real estate firm of Blackford & Burris of Maryville.

BAPTISTS WILL GO TO ELMO MEETING

DELEGATION TO LEAVE TOMORROW FOR N. W. MO. CONFERENCE

SERMON IN THE MORNING

Further Attendance From Maryville Will Travel in Trucks to the Evening Gatherings

A large number of messengers from the Maryville and White Cloud Baptist churches will leave tomorrow morning on the Wabash 7:17 train for Elmo. They will attend the Northwest Missouri Baptist Association which will be in session tomorrow and Thursday at Bethel church.

The morning session will be taken up in the reading of letters from the different local churches in Atchison, Holt and Nodaway counties; the election of officers of the association for the coming year; and the annual sermon by Rev. T. J. Grinnitt of Tarkio.

In the afternoon time will be given to the woman's work of the association. The president, Mrs. James F. Gore of Rock Port, reports good work having been done by all the missionary societies of the association. The Maryville society probably has made the most radical change of any of the societies. Nearly a year ago it was voted to do away with all suppers, festivals and bazaars for the purpose of raising money for the church.

Church Has a Balance.

During the year the women took their place by the side of the men and through their aid the contributions of the church were raised to such an extent that at the end of the year instead of the usual deficit, there was a slight balance in the treasury. The church will not return to the supper basis, but depend on free will offerings for the support of the work. The name of the Women's Mission and Ladies' Aid Society was changed to the Women's Auxiliary, and the character of the work changed in keeping with the new plans.

The balance of the afternoon will be given to the work of the District Mission Board which has charge of the business side of the association. The Northwest Missouri Association is one of the 82 associations which meet during the summer and fall. These meetings are purely fraternal and the actions in no way binding on the local churches, since the Baptist denomination is absolutely democratic and each and every local Baptist church entirely independent of every other church, there being no centralized government. All co-operation is based on voluntary action.

Truck Trips to Conference.

Two truck loads of young people will leave the church at 5 p. m. tomorrow to attend the B. Y. P. U. and Sunday school conference tomorrow night.

Thursday night several automobile loads of laymen will leave the church at 6 p. m. to be present at the address of Ministry Jones of St. Joseph, assistant moderator of the Missouri Baptist General Association. Mr. Jones is the chairman for Missouri of the "Millions for the Master Campaign." The Baptists of the United States will raise this year in five-year pledges $175,000,000 for missions and philanthropy. Missouri will raise $3,000,000. The Northwest Missouri Association will vote on their quota at the association at Bethel.

Reverial Meetings at Palestine

A series of revival meetings began last night at the Palestine Church, 6 miles northeast of Graham, and will continue for about two weeks. Rev. S. D. Harlan, pastor of the Graham Christian Church, is doing the preaching and the music is in charge of Miss Wilma Mills of Skidmore.

Mrs. D. Miller of Mathews, Tex., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Holt. Mrs. Miller was formerly Miss Zephia Holt of Maryville.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Robinson and daughter, Miss Virginia Robinson, are spending the day in St. Joseph.

TOURNAMENT ALMOST SURE; MOST OF TICKETS ARE SOLD

Stanberry and Stockyards Teams Promise to Come Next Sunday—Locals Hunt New Players

The proposed baseball tournament is almost certain to be held here next Sunday, according to Manager Homer Black of the local team. The players selling tickets have succeeded in disposing of nearly all of the 250 needed to guarantee the contests, and two of the visiting teams have definitely been selected. Stanberry and the St. Joseph Stockyards team, both well and favorably known in Maryville, have promised to take part. Manager Black will ask in either Shenandoah or Albany to make up the required quartet of teams.

The four teams will play three games, the last game between the winners of the two other games. A dollar ticket admits to all three contests.

Manager Black intends to strengthen the Maryville team for the tournament as all the games are expected to be hard. Tonight he will hear from "Lefty" Clark of Greenfield, Iowa, who pitched here several years ago and made an excellent reputation. It is probable also that the Maryville team will have a new infielder.

MINERS MAY JOIN WITH R.R. UNIONS

SUPPORT OF PLUMB PLAN IS SOUGHT AT CONVENTION

MAY NATIONALIZE BOTH?

Mines and Railroads Alike Subjects for New System—Compulsory Arbitration Is Opposed

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 9.—A coalition of the two greatest bodies of union men in the United States in support of the nationalization of railroads and mines was predicted today among the delegates attending the convention of the United Mine Workers of America. The big four brotherhoods of railroad workers will make an active bid for the support of the miners for the Plumb plan for the nationalization of the country's railroads.

Miners Against Cummins Plan.

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 9.—The United Mine Workers will stand unalterably opposed to the compulsory arbitration clause of the Cummins railroad bill, acting President Lewis told the miners in convention here today.

VISITORS FROM TRENTON HERE TO VIEW GARMENT FACTORY

Four Business Men Make Motor Car Trip—May Have Similar Institution There

A delegation of four Trenton, Mo., business men were in Maryville for a few hours around noon today inspecting the McDonald garment factory with a view of taking action on a proposed garment factory at Trenton. They were traveling in a motor car. Secretary George A. Pickens of the Maryville Commercial Club assisted them in their investigation. Those in the party were H. T. Hoffman, Ott Stein, W. E. Patterson and D. C. Andrews, the latter a former Maryville boy now employed by the Hoffman dry goods firm at Trenton.

Mrs. Corwin Returns.

Mrs. C. C. Corwin returned yesterday from a summer's outing at the Wismo Angling Club, Reserve, Wis. Her daughter, Miss May Corwin, and Mrs. J. A. McLean of Hamilton, Mo., who accompanied her, will spend several weeks in Duluth, Minn., before returning home. They all spent a week fishing at Royal Island, Lake Superior, about 200 miles northeast of Duluth, and were entertained during the summer by Mr. and Mrs. Musselman of New York City at their summer home on an island in Lake Superior. Mrs. Musselman is a cousin of Dean G. H. Colbert of Maryville.

Williams Hearing Postponed.

The cases of the state against Cal Williams of southwest of Maryville, which came up for a preliminary hearing in Maryville this morning before Justice W. L. Johnson, were continued until Friday upon agreement for both sides. Williams, who is at liberty under a $1,500 bond, is charged with running a motor car without a license, with stealing a motor car and with receiving stolen property.

CLUB LIFE STARTS FOR 20TH CENTURY

LOCAL ORGANIZATION HOLDS ITS FIRST FALL SESSION

TO PLAN VOTING SCHOOL

Meeting October 14 Will Take up Instruction in Citizenship—Three Charter Members Left

Among the first of the local women's clubs to resume regular meetings is the Twentieth Century Club, which convened in its first fall session this afternoon at the Elks Club House. Mrs. M. J. Alderman, first vice president, presided at the meeting, beginning at 3 o'clock, substituting for Mrs. Arthur Brewer, president, who is visiting in Colorado.

The program included talks by Mrs. A. F. Harvey, press reporter of the Tourist department, Mrs. H. R. Juvenal, vice chairman of the Arts and Crafts department, and Mrs. D. J. Thomas, chairman of the Shakespeare department, outlining the activities of their respective departments for the ensuing year. Additional program features were a musical selection by Mrs. Harvey and a reading by Mrs. F. H. Metzler. The remainder of the afternoon was spent socially, and Mrs. C. F. Remus, chairman, Mrs. J. M. McDonald, Mrs. Juvenal, Mrs. R. L. McDougal and Miss Ora Barnum served as the hostesses. The club house was decorated in vari-colored autumn flowers, artistically arranged in vases and baskets, and light refreshments were served.

New Year Books Are Out.

The new year books were distributed, and in turning over its interesting pages and contemplating the subject arranged for study at the season's meetings, one notes that suffrage is one of the topics of the year. An entire meeting is set aside, Oct. 14, for a consideration of a citizenship school. Mrs. W. K. James, a prominent club woman of St. Joseph, will probably discuss the subject at that time.

According to a current issue of the Missouri Woman, citizenship schools have already been held in Webster Groves, DeSoto, Festus, Hillsboro and at the Methodist Assembly at Arcadia, where Mrs. Nellie Berger of Clark was in charge. Mrs. Berger also managed a school at Hollister, August 14 and 15, with Miss Stearns assisting, and at Booneville, August 18.

Stone county was next to organize a citizenship school, and then in quick succession they were held in Lawrence, St. Clair, Vernon, Barton, Hickory, Jasper, Bates and Henry counties, Jackson county having had its school early in June.

Schools have been arranged for Louisiana, September 1 to 7; Milan, September 8 to 14; Chillicothe, September 15 to 21; Steelville, September 22 to 28; Warrensburg, September 29 to October 5; Keytesville, October 6 to 12; Hannibal, October 13 to 18.

Shakespeare Work to Start.

The opening meeting of the Shakespeare department will be held September 23 at the home of Mrs. G. B. Holmes, Sr. The department will change from its study of the writings of Shakespeare to the study of modern dramas. Among those listed are two plays, "Rise Up Jennie Smith," awarded first prize by the Drama League of America, and "Pierrot of the Minute," to be presented on February 24 by Mrs. F. H. Metzler and Mrs. C. C. Leeson. Other dramas to be studied are "Strife," Galsworthy; "The Witching Hour," by Augustus Thomas; and "What Every Woman Knows," Barrie. The dramatic side of "Madam Butterfly" will be given at the meeting on December 16, and the season's study will be concluded April 27 with a lecture on "Hamlet" by Prof. Harry A. Miller of the State Teachers College faculty.

The Tourist department will resume its meetings Sept. 16, when Mrs. Dan Baker will be the hostess. This division will continue their study of (Continued from page 1.)

TWO ACCOUNTS ARE GIVEN OF PRESENT TROUBLE IN SILESIA

Paderewski Accuses Germans of Massacres—Berlin Says the People Want U. S. Troops Present

London, Sept. 9.—Counter allegations regarding German and Polish activities in Upper Silesia were received today from Berlin and Paris. Paderewski is quoted as saying in Paris the Germans are preparing for a proposed plebiscite by an attempted extermination of the Poles, a thousand whom already have been murdered. Berlin says the majority of the population of Upper Silesia, including the Poles, favors occupation by the United States troops during the proposed plebiscite.

ALBANY MAN WOULD SUCCEED C. B. FARIS ON STATE COURT

Woodson Peery Seeks Appointment as Missouri Supreme Judge—Has Friends Here

Woodson Peery of Albany is seeking the appointment as a member of the Missouri supreme court to succeed Judge C. B. Faris, who, it is announced, will be selected by President Wilson as judge of the United States District court of St. Louis. Mr. Peery is well known in Maryville and Nodaway county and his many friends here would be glad to see him appointed by Governor Gardner. The bar of Nodaway county has sent a petition to Governor Gardner endorsing Mr. Peery. The following editorial is taken from Monday's Chillicothe Constitution about Mr. Peery:

President Wilson, it is announced, has determined on appointing Judge C. B. Faris of the Missouri supreme court, judge of the United States District court of St. Louis to succeed Judge D. P. Dyer, retired. A petition was circulated by members of the Livingston county bar, Friday, requesting Governor Gardner to appoint Woodson Peery of Albany to succeed Judge Faris. Woodson Peery is one of the ablest lawyers in Missouri, and he has a long and honorable record at the bar. He has been on one side or the other of much of the important litigation of North Missouri and he has had an extensive practice in all of the appellate courts of the state and in the federal courts. His friends are strong for him and it is believed the governor will look with favor upon the appointment of Judge Peery to the supreme bench. The Constitution if for Woodson Peery.

WILSON TAKES UP QUESTION OF H.C.L.

HE ADVISES CO-OPERATION OF CAPITAL AND LABOR

FOR WHOLE WORLD, TOO

Makes a Sharp Reference to Hoarding—Declares Treaty Is "Magna Charta" of Working Man

St. Paul, Sept. 9.—Departing for a time from his arguments directly touching on the League of Nations, President Wilson today discussed the high cost of living. He declared the remedy to bring down prices, not alone in the United States but in the world, is to secure co-operation between capital and labor. He also made what is believed to be a sharp reference to the packing industry and big wholesale commission organizations that hold back food-stuffs to keep prices up.

President Wilson insisted the rights of labor must be safe guarded equally with those of capital and expressed great hopes that the coming conference at Washington will work out a remedy for the existing friction. He again declared that the labor clauses in the treaty of peace is the "Magna Charta" of labor.

A BUSINESS PROPOSITION.
The following editorial is from the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, a Republican newspaper:

President Wilson delivered two addresses in St. Louis yesterday. He spoke, as we had hoped and believed he would speak, as the chief magistrate of the nation, explaining not a measure of party policy but a measure of national welfare transcending party politics. In the speech at the luncheon given by the Chamber of Commerce he addressed himself primarily to business men with a comprehension of the essential internationality of commerce, of industry and of finance. We are told, he said that we should mind our own business, but how, he pertinently asked, can our business be separated from the rest of the world. Our business is not and cannot be limited to our confines. We have long ago crossed our boundaries. We long ago reached the point where we produced and manufactured more than we could consume ourselves, and now our surplus products are vastly more than our own needs. Our business is everywhere, in every land, inextricably mingled with the business of others and as we grow greater and more productive our prosperity is more and more dependent upon the extension and expansion of our external commerce. Our industry and its remuneration are more and more to be measured by what we sell abroad rather than by what we sell at home. Our finances are more and more concerned with and influenced by the questions of foreign credit and exchange. And therefore the maintenance and development of our business, at home as well as abroad, is very largely a matter of other people's business and very largely dependent upon the peaceful relations of the peoples with whom we do business.

These thoughts were not expressed by the President, but grew out of the suggestion of his remarks. One of the most far-reaching and largest continuing consequences of war is the inevitable disruption of the normal processes of business. The whole world is now suffering and must continue to suffer from the breaking down of these processes of production, communication and exchange resulting from the great war. The purpose of the League of Nations is to diminish war, to prevent it, if possible; to put an end, if that can be accomplished, to the great economic disasters that war produces, as well as to put an end to the needless slaughter of men on the fields of battle. Business in the large sense is the foundation of all prosperity, and peace is the essential foundation of stable business. If peace is not to be established and maintained as the normal state of mankind by the co-operation of the nations, how is it to be done? No one has suggested or can suggest any other practicable way. They who would have us return to the status quo ante bellum, the status of international intrigue and jealousy and enmity, the status of secret treaties and combinations of great powers for the domination of weak ones, the status of rivalry in armaments for the great war and still greater wars, that every one realizes must come under the continuance of such conditions and relations, hold out no remedy, offer us no hope. If this League of Nations is not established now, when every argument of expediency, of necessity and of humanity demands it, when the opportunity is correlated with the poignant desires of mankind for relief from the horrors of war, then we must return to the conditions of the past and prepare for the inevitable calamities that mustadden the future. Aside from all social and political and humanitarian considerations that is not good business. No business man would be satisfied to go forward to certain disaster, if he could, by any conceivable measures make disaster improbable.

The League of Nations is essentially a business proposition, a proposition that touches with material finger the foundations of prosperity. This is true not only in the establishment of permanent conditions of peace which leave business free to follow its channels undisturbed, but in the saving of the vast wastage of war, in the promotion and enforcement of just international laws, for the protection and advancement of commerce, in the strengthening of credits, in the stabilizing of exchange, in the prevention of regional monopolies of trade by force of arms, in the quickening and expansion of the means of communication and of transport, and in numerous ways which the assurance of peace and the friendly co-operation of the nations for the advancement of the common welfare will surely bring to pass. It is a business proposition, and it is our business that is concerned in it.

PAGE COUNTY CITIZENS MAY CLOSE A LUTHERAN SCHOOL

Promise to Use English Books and Speak English Unavailable—Question to Legislature

The Iowa state legislature will decide whether the Lutheran School at Yorktown in Page County will open its doors for the winter term, following a visit of a crowd of fifty persons to the home of the teacher. Professor Hilgendorf, threatening violence if the school opens, says a Shenandoah, Iowa, dispatch to the St. Joseph News-Press.

The instructors and the German Lutheran people say that English text books are to be used and that the children will not be taught German. The crowd of protestors, which included many men who served in the army and many during the world war, even though that be the case, think that the parents should send their children to the American public schools.

A mass meeting was held at the Yorktown opera house one night last week at which nearly every nearby town was represented to discuss the situation. The crowd met with the intention of forcing the Lutherans not to open the Lutheran school. Excitement ran high, though it was supposed to be a peaceable round table discussion.

Plots in Cork Damage Property.
Cork, Ireland, Sept. 9.—Soldiers and rioters here have caused $50,000 damage to property.

--and no one could tell the difference

—Odette Le Fontenay Drawn from actual photograph.

Last night's audience mystified

Tries vainly to detect difference between voice of famous soprano and RE-CREATION by Edison's new phonograph.

Those present at First Methodist Church last night saw Odette Le Fontenay walk onto the stage. They saw her take her position next to a beautiful cabinet. They saw her lips give voice to the opening lines of The Swallows. Then suddenly her lips were still—but the song kept flowing on.

How came this? They were hearing Mme. Le Fontenay's voice, yet Mme. Le Fontenay was not singing. The entire audience gasped as it slowly realized that it had been unable to distinguish between Mme. Le Fontenay's voice and the RE-CREATION of that voice by the New Edison.

This was the daring test undertaken last night at First Methodist Church by Thomas A. Edison. He sought to prove that no difference exists between the voice of the living artist and its RE-CREATION by the New Edison. The musically cultured of Maryville were invited to pass judgment. No test could have been more exacting.

Mme. Le Fontenay made comparison after comparison. The mystified audience tried vainly to catch a difference between the original rendition and its RE-CREATION by the New Edison. No one could tell one from the other.

It was a triumph whole and complete for the New Edison.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

The instrument used in last night's Tone Test is the regular model which sells for $285. It is an exact duplicate of the Laboratory Model which Mr. Edison perfected after spending Three Million Dollars in experiments.

The New Edison alone of all phonographs is capable of sustaining this test. Until Mr. Edison knew it would do so, he regarded his work as unfinished.

Ask some on who was present last night. Learn the amazing truth. Then come in and let us prove it personally to you.

CHURCH FILLED TO CAPACITY AT DEMONSTRATION CONCERT

Soprano, Violinist and Edison Phonograph Please Large Crowd of Maryville Music Lovers

A large and appreciative crowd of music lovers filled the First Methodist church last night to hear Madame Le Fontenay, soprano, and Charles Young, violinist, in their recital in connection with the tone reproduction qualities of the new Edison phonograph. The recital was given under the auspices of the Edison company and the Koch pharmacy of Maryville. Tosti's "Good-by," as sung by Madame Le Fontenay, proved one of the more popular numbers. Mr. Young's work also brought forth good applause. At times the church was darkened so that it could not be seen whether Madame Le Fontenay or the phonograph was doing the singing, and the crowd was unable to distinguish which was which, so nearly perfect was the recreation of the tones.

Stylish Skirts $7.50 to $25.00

Our ready-to-wear department is now displaying a very unusual collection of those new "Korrek" fall skirts.

They are unusual from point of style, quality of materials, colorings and workmanship. They are all top notchers and represent wonderful values.

Serge, wool poplin, wool taffeta and silk poplin are the materials mostly employed in this new assortment just received. Plain colors, fancy plaids and stripes are all in evidence, with some very attractive colorings and combinations.

Accordion pleated, box pleated, plain gathered styles, and those with groups of small tucks at bottom. Some open at back, having row of buttons extending from the belt down; others have the side opening; practically all have the belts either in yoke effect, wide style, or one of many other types, while the majority have fancy pockets of various designs.

The skirts are mostly of the narrow effect giving that straight line silhouette now so much in evidence.

Prices range from $7.50 to $25.00

Life and Death in Mad Race.

Dayton, Ohio, Sept. 9.—Life and death rode a race in a police ambulance here and both won. John T. Weber, taken suddenly ill, was being rushed to a hospital when the ambulance was stopped by emergency call to take Mrs. J. Rogan to the same institution. Weber died before the hospital was reached and Mrs. Rogan gave birth to a child.

And This Was Cold Tea, Too.

St. Louis, Sept. 9.—Edward Ferguson, a negro, walked into the Dayton street police station here and asked Captain James Johnson to taste the liquid in two-quart bottles labeled "Old Crow whiskey." Johnson summoned an expert from his force. The expert pronounced the liquid cold tea. The negro said he had paid two men $3.50 for it. On complaint of the negro, John Hollihan and Thomas Tuohy were arrested.

A Black Cat Caused This.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 9.—The black cat has carried an omen of ill luck since the days of Noah, it is said. Edward U. Ricketts is more convinced of this now than he ever was before. His efforts to shoot a black cat him to be placed under arrest. Ricketts fired at the cat with a rifle. The bullet cut some of the cat's fur and glancing entered the home of Edward Wallace Hughes, striking Charles, thirteen-year-old son in the right leg.

Carlinville, Ill., Sept. 9.—"Sh! A couple Sh! Ya wanta buy some nice cold tea what's got a amber color and taste to it? Don't tell anybody, 'cause—well, 'cause it ain't right!"

A dark-faced man whispered this in the ears of Bacchus followers here. He had seventeen bottles in the bottom of an automobile he pointed to. The B. F.'s bought it all—paid a real price for it, too, but—and a couple more butts—when they opened the stuff it was all that the dark-faced man said—just plain, ordinary tea. Barnum was right.

I Couldn't Get Along Without My Electric
Washer!

We have heard several women make that remark, and how true it must seem to them—they can't see how they ever did a washing without one.

It is so hard to get help now days that a woman must provide herself with modern appliances for doing the hard work of the home as easily as possible. The electric washer is the greatest labor saving device ever invented, and it is a mighty cheap machine when you consider what it saves in health and strength, as well as the saving on clothes and the satisfaction of having them washed clean and the washing done, and out of the way in a morning hour.

Perhaps you have said: "I am going to have one someday." Have it now while it can do you the most good.

Church Has Views of Labor Unrest

A Declaration by the Bishops, District Superintendents and Other Officers of the Methodist Episcopal Church

The marked condition of social and industrial as well as political unrest and upheaval, through which the world is now passing, calls for the best thought which the church can give. While much of this condition is a direct result of the war, it is also a revelation disclosed by the war of things which have been in existence but have not been so clearly seen.

The only wise thing for the church to do is to face these problems with the same courage it has shown in other great issues. Closing the eyes will find no solution.

In the study of causes it is clear there are grave inequalities of opportunities facing many men and serious inequalities in the distribution of the products of their toil.

The privileges of self-development, spiritual and intellectual, are denied to multitudes of toilers, both for themselves and their families, because of the hard conditions under which they must labor for their daily bread.

Every man is, under God, entitled to something more than a bare living for himself and his family, if he be sober and industrious. The church, commissioned of its great Head, to preach "abundant life" for all, cannot be indifferent to the deplorable condition mentioned.

The church must regard the laborer as a man, not a machine; as a living soul, not a commercial commodity, to be purchased on the market. This is essential for the common good of society as much as for the welfare of the individuals directly concerned, for the essence of civilization is found in the value placed upon human life. This is also the genius of the gospel of Christ, upon which alone true civilization can be built. It is the business of the church to set up the kingdom of God in the earth; that is, to bring about such conditions that each man will have his chance to reach his best estate.

To this end the church is under obligation to encourage a better understanding between employers and employees, so that whatever rights are claimed by one shall be enjoyed by the other. In other words, it must strenuously inculcate the principle that employers and employees, in their very nature, are partners, not competitors; allies, not enemies. On no other basis can permanent harmony between them be established.

This means not only the democratization of industry, but its Christianization also. It means that power, either political, economic or industrial, shall not be monopolized by one class to the detriment or defrauding of another. Indeed, class distinctions must disappear if a true Christian civilization is ever to be realized. This only is the true democracy for which the world waits. The church of Christ must prepare the way for this by recognizing no barriers of class or race and by discouraging wider development of class consciousness.

The church must be interested in all men, in all ranks of life. It must have an equal ministry for all, devoid of partisanship or favoritism. It must be as much concerned in the wages of the poor as in the wealth of the rich. It must see the menace to society in those that have too much as well as in those who have too little. There are encouraging signs that the great movements of the times are toward the goal above described. The lessons of common brotherhood, born of the common peril of the great world conflict just ended, will not easily be forgotten.

Employers are showing a disposition of greater fairness toward their employees, while the utterances of some recent labor conventions have been very pronounced against the use of violence in the settlement of disputes and in condemnation of broken contracts between employers and employees.

The Methodist Episcopal church, with its advanced social creed, has openly avowed its advocacy of everything which will advance the common good. Let us have no fear of practicing what we preach, of encouraging the open discussion in the church of these vital questions until "the good of all shall become each man's law."

CATTLE AT K. C. YESTERDAY
STEADY TO A TRIPLE LOWER

Large Supplies and Lower Prices Elsewhere Affected Market—Moderate Decrease in Sheep

Kansas City Stock Yards, Sept. 9.—Cattle were steady to lower; hogs steady to strong and sheep 25 to 50 cents higher. The general cattle market line up its weakness because of liberal receipts, common quality of the killing grades, and large supplies and lower prices elsewhere. A moderate decrease in sheep together with increased demand from killers and countrymen boosted the market.

TODAY'S RECEIPTS
Receipts today were 28,000 cattle, 11,000 hogs, and 19,000 sheep, compared with 26,000 cattle, 9,000 hogs and 25,000 sheep a week ago, and 41,700 cattle, 12,250 hogs, and 13,700 sheep a year ago. While the bulk of the cattle came from Oklahoma and Kansas, there was a material increase in offerings from Colorado and Texas.

BEEF CATTLE
Killers cared for the few good to choice fat steers, yearlings and heifers, offered at steady prices, but the bulk of the supply was classed as fair to plain quality grass steers, and sold at $9.00 to $11.00. The better grass steers brought $11.25 to $13.25, wintered grades up to $15.00 and fed steers $15.00 to $17.50, cows sold at $6.25 to $9.50, and heifers $7.00 to $10.25. Veal calves were 25 to 50 cents higher, top $16.50 for large lots and $17.00 for odd head.

STOCKERS AND FEEDERS
Stock feeding and breeding cattle were in liberal supply, and increased offerings from Colorado and the Panhandle gave quality to the run. Prices were steady to 25 cents lower, and the lowest of the season. Few heavy feeders were wanted. The bulk of the bulk of the stocker sales were at $8.00 to $9.50, and feeders $9.00 to $15.00, stock cows and heifers $6.00 to $8.50.

HOGS
Trade in hogs opened early at strong prices compared with Saturday's advance, but weakness elsewhere caused packers to buy slowly. The close was weak and 10 to 15 cents under the best prices early. The top price was $19.75, paid by a speculator. The shipper and packer top was $19.50, and the bulk of the sales was $18.00 to $19.25. A liberal percent of the offerings was pigs, and they sold readily to feeders at $17.00 to $19.25. A good many pigs are expected in the next few weeks from localities that are short on corn.

SHEEP AND LAMBS
Though sheep receipts 19,000 were not as large as a week ago, they were as large as expected. Active demand for killers boosted prices of fat lambs and sheep 25 to 50 cents, and stock and feeding grades were strong. The bulk of the fat Western lambs sold at $15.00 to $15.40, and native lambs up to $14.50. Fat ewes brought $7.50 to $8.75, and feeding lambs $12.50 to $13.75.

Burglars Split Over Prohibition.
Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 9.—Not even the burglars are unanimous on this prohibition question. "Wet" burglars stole sixteen cases of whiskey from John Giske. "Dry" gentlemen of the same craft stole two cases of grape juice from a neighboring grocery store. Reports to the police, however, show that the "wet" burglars predominate in the profession.

Says Cripple Stole His Wife.
Mansfield, Ohio, Sept. 9.—Samuel Secrist, a wealthy farmer living near Newville, is a paralytic cripple and has not walked a step for twenty-one years. Nevertheless, William Van Zile charges in a $5,000 divorce suit that Secrist stole his wife and eloped with her.

It Was a Scrap of Paper, Too.
Reading, Pa., Sept. 9.—There have been numerous wars waged over "mere scraps of paper," but so far as can be ascertained this is the only one that resulted from a sheet of correspondence paper. Helen Hugel of this city alleges that Dorothy and Blanche Hammon took offense because her five-year-old son happened to tear a sheet of paper taken from a twenty-five-cent box of correspondence material. The case will be carried to court.
